Being Comfortable in Uncomfortable Situations

Greetings to you in the faithful name of our Lord Jesus! We thank you for your unceasing and passionate prayers.

In July, we preached a series exhorting our members to stay comfortable when facing extended wait, constant changes, unexpected challenges and failed experiences. With thanksgiving, Mr. O Wirati,

Mr. Henry Sai Noom Kham, and Ms. Sarah Lee have received training to preach in July's development strategy. In particular, Henry and Sarah have received compliments for their faith-provoking passion and heart-warming personal testimonies. In addition, we have started a new discipleship group on every Monday evening where Sarah, under my supervision, teaches some new believers: Mr. Johnny, Ms. Debbie, Ms. Tang, Ms. Na, and Ms. Namoon (faith-seeker). Except for one who is a pre-university student, the rest are university undergraduates. Apart from spiritual input, we provide practical assistance related to their studies and personal challenges. Moreover, we have started English conversation classes every Sunday morning to strengthen the command of English for them and other committed ones whom we would like to develop. We are also preparing to start another discipleship group when we manage to gather enough people. Further, we have expanded our Chinese service into a Chinese/English bilingual service to cater to a wider audience. Since last month, we also thank God for the repeated visits of Mr. Anthony, a Filipino, and Mr. Larry and Deborah Hunter, an American couple to our church.

As Covid-19 situation worsens in Thailand where 15,000 are infected daily on average, let us pray for God's protection over His people, His ministries, and the expansion of His work. Let us continue to pray for a sustained church growth of new additions, development of new faithful leaders, and spiritual commitment of existing members affected by the global pandemic.
